

New Correctional Facility for Women Construction Update for July 22, 2016

We are completing construction week # 17 on the New Hampshire Correctional Facility for Women in Concord. The contractor is continuing preparation for pouring concrete slabs. Reinforcement of the slab is achieved by adding steel wire mesh as seen in the picture. Additional sub-contractors and equipment will arrive next week to help start the concrete block. The project remains on schedule for the Fall of 2017 and within budget.

In order to provide a separate and distinct address for the new Women's facility, the City of Concord, the 911 Database Center and DOC have established a new street name. Beginning on August 22, 2016, the road that goes around all the facilities will officially be named "Perimeter Road." With that change the Men's Prison will retain the address of 281 North State Street; the Transitional Work Center (TWC) will be assigned an address of 275 North State Street; the North End House (NEH) will be assigned an address of 1 Perimeter Road; and the new women's prison will be assigned an address of 42 Perimeter Road. Notifications will go out to utilities, the US Postal Service and everyone else that will be impacted. All mail will continue to come to 281 North State Street.
